

Audience Response at the 2023 ACMS Annual Meeting

Slido will again be used for audience question-and-answer at the ACMS Annual Meeting to allow participation by virtual attendees and to simplify the in-person question process.

This year, all sessions will also have the ability to use Slido for audience polling. To take advantage of this, faculty will need to share how many questions they would like to poll the audience on by April 24 by contacting me at asjohnson@mohscollege.org.

In your presentation:

- For each question, ACMS staff will prepare a generic set of answer choices in Slido, only using the letters A through D.
- You must create a slide for each question, with the details of answer choices A through D displayed on the slide.
- The audience will be able to see the question-and-answer choices on your slide, select their response in the Slido platform, and then the audience's response percentages will be displayed next to your slide.
- You can either have your presentation then display the correct answer using effects or a separate slide, or you can verbally share the correct answer.
- Speakers should discuss with their session Moderator(s) if they want to include audience response polling to ensure that the session will flow smoothly with all involved Speakers.