Welcome from the President

Dear ACMS Members and Colleagues,

On behalf of the ACMS Board of Directors, I invite you south to Austin, Texas to attend the 41st Annual Meeting of the American College of Mohs Surgery from April 23-26, 2009.

The Scientific Program Committee, chaired by Dr. Ken K. Lee, has put together an outstanding program that will highlight many relevant topics to enhance your practice skills in cutaneous oncology, Mohs micrographic surgery, and reconstruction. Aside from the valuable CME credits you will earn, this year's program promises to be both an enriching and worthwhile experience. In addition to the excellent program, our exhibit hall will be sure to offer products and information valuable to your practice.

While in Austin, I encourage you to take the time to explore what this fantastic city has to offer. Dubbed the Live Music Capital of the World®, Austin has nearly 200 live music venues throughout, as well as a vast array of recreational activities and scenic beauty to observe. For all of this and more, I am sure that Austin will be a great host city for the ACMS meeting.

I would like to extend my sincere appreciation and gratitude to the Scientific Program Committee Chair, Dr. Ken K. Lee, for the enormous amount time and effort he has put into assembling a well-rounded and exceptional program. Special thanks go out to the members of the Scientific Program Committee: Drs. Brett Coldiron, Leonard Dzubow, Marcy Neuburg, Roberta Sengelmann, and Sumaira Aasi, for their dedication and contributions in planning this year's events.

As always, your attendance is essential to the success of the meeting. I hope to see you in Austin for what I believe will be another outstanding Annual Meeting of the American College of Mohs Surgery!

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Duane C. Whitaker". The signature is written in a cursive style with a large, stylized initial 'D'.

Duane C. Whitaker, MD, FACMS
ACMS President

Welcome from the Scientific Program Chair

Dear Colleagues,

I am pleased to present the educational program for the 2009 ACMS Annual Meeting in Austin. The program has been created with great care to provide practical, broad, and relevant knowledge to enhance your practice skill in Mohs surgery, cutaneous oncology, reconstructive and cosmetic surgery.

We are fortunate to have two distinguished guest speakers who both bring unique and important perspectives from longstanding close relationships with Mohs surgeons.

Dr. Shan R. Baker, Professor and Director of the Center for Facial Cosmetic Surgery at the University of Michigan Medical Center will lecture on "Applying Rhinoplasty Principles to Nasal Reconstruction", giving us insight into the aesthetic and three-dimensional aspects of nasal repairs. Dr. Clay J. Cockerell, Director of Dermatopathology at the UT Southwestern Medical School, will team up with Dr. R. Stan Taylor and share their challenging cases from Dallas, demonstrating the important interaction between Mohs surgeons and dermatopathologists.

There are several new additions to this year's program. "Reconstructive Challenges" is a new series that will provide an in-depth view of difficult repairs; this year's subject is "Full Thickness Defects". We have also added the "Clinical Pearls Abstracts" to give our members a forum to share their practical tips. Saturday afternoon will feature "Practical Issues in Practicing Mohs Surgery", a session devoted to effectively running a Mohs surgery office.

I want to extend a special thanks to the Scientific Program Committee members: Drs. Brett Coldiron, Leonard Dzubow, Marcy Neuburg, Roberta Sengelmann, Duane Whitaker, and Ex-Officio Member, Sumaira Aasi, for their valuable insights and advice that went into bringing these quality sessions to our program.

The Scientific Program Committee hopes that you are as excited as we are about what the 2009 Annual Meeting for the American College of Mohs Surgery in Austin has to offer.

We look forward to seeing you April 23-26 in Austin, Texas!

Sincerely,

Ken K. Lee, MD, FACMS
ACMS Scientific Program Committee, Chair

Morning Mini-sessions (Breakfast Sessions)			$50.00 each
All ACMS members, current fellows-in-training, and residents who are registered for the meeting may sign up to attend a Morning Mini-session. Pre-registration for these sessions is strongly encouraged as the number of seats is limited. Morning Mini-sessions are open only to physicians. Registrants will receive tickets for the Morning Mini-sessions. Each session will have a room monitor who will only admit those who have the correct ticket. Tickets may be purchased at the registration desk until the session is sold-out.
Diagnostic Quality Control Exam			$50.00
Access to the Diagnostic Quality Control Exam is $50.00 for ACMS members and non-members, and free to fellows-in-training. Registration is required to enter the exam. Only ACMS members who register for the exam and turn in an answer sheet on-site will receive a certificate. Certificates are mailed approximately 4-6 weeks after the meeting. Category I CME credit will not be offered for the Diagnostic Quality Control Exam.

Cancellations and Refunds

Registration fees, minus a $200 administration fee, will be refunded upon written notice of cancellation if the request is received at the ACMS Executive Office no later than March 23, 2009. Email: info@mohscollege.org or Fax: (414) 276-2146. Refunds will not be given after that date except in cases of extreme personal or family emergency. In the case of such emergencies, a written request to refund the registration fee, plus documentation or verification of such emergency, must be submitted to the ACMS Executive Office.

Please note: We regret that partial refunds cannot be made for sessions not attended, including Morning Mini-sessions.

General Information

CME Credit

Each physician should only claim CME credit hours that he/she actually spent in the educational activity.

The American College of Mohs Surgery (ACMS) Annual Meeting is recognized by the American Academy of Dermatology for 24 hours of AAD Category 1 CME credit and may be used toward the American Academy of Dermatology's Continuing Medical Education Award. The program number is 197-100.

Attendees enrolled in the AAD CME Transcript Award Program must claim their credits on the AAD website.

Physician Assistant Credit

The American Academy of Physician Assistants accepts AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)™ from organizations accredited by the ACCME. Physician Assistants attending the Annual Meeting can submit certificates or transcripts showing how many physician CME credits were offered for an activity to the American Association of Physician Assistants and get them "converted" to PA CME credit.**

** Doctors earn AMA PRA Category 1 Credits from CME activities. The AAPA also grants and counts Category 1 CME credits, but those are specifically for PA's and have to come from a provider accredited by the AAPA. Both groups label their credits Category 1 CME, but the labels, though they read the same, refer to different evaluations.

Disclosure of Faculty Financial Affiliations

To comply with the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) Standards of Commercial Support on the need for disclosure and monitoring of proprietary and financial interests that may affect the scientific integrity and balance of content delivered in continuing medical education activities under our auspices, the American College of Mohs Surgery will disclose faculty and commercial relationships at the Annual Meeting.

Disclosure of Discussion of Non-FDA Approved Uses for Pharmaceutical Products and/or Medical Devices

The ACCME requires that all faculty presenters identify and disclose any off-label uses for pharmaceutical and medical device products. The American College of Mohs Surgery recommends that each physician fully review all the available data on new products or procedures prior to instituting them with patients.

Disclaimer

The views expressed and the techniques presented by the speakers of the ACMS-sponsored educational meetings are not necessarily shared or endorsed by the organization. Speakers are required to disclose all relevant conflicts of interest and any unapproved or off-label uses of medical devices or pharmaceutical agents that they discuss, describe, or demonstrate during their presentations.

Meeting attendees should use their independent judgment in applying the information discussed in these educational sessions in the treatment of patients. Handout materials are prepared and submitted for distribution by the presenters, who are solely responsible for its content.

General Information

Learning Objectives

Upon completion of the Annual Meeting, participants will be able to describe the latest advances in the treatment of skin cancer, discuss recent research findings in the area of Mohs micrographic surgery and cutaneous oncology, and explain new techniques in reconstruction that promote optimal surgical outcomes.

The specific learning objectives, upon completion of the ACMS Annual Meeting include, but are not limited to:

- Describe various research projects being pursued within the areas of Mohs surgery, cutaneous oncology, and reconstruction.
- Identify controversial practices in the field of Mohs surgery and cutaneous oncology and explain both arguments for and against particular techniques.
- Describe the correct way to bill for Mohs surgery, reconstruction, and other dermatologic surgery procedures in real clinical situations.
- Discuss novel techniques for repair of surgical defects of the nose, ears, lips, and eyes.
- Discuss the principles and limitations of MR, CT, and US as applied to non-melanoma skin cancer.
- Discuss various ways to reconstruct specific surgical defects for optimal cosmetic and functional results.
- Discuss the optimal management of unusual and difficult tumors.
- Approach nail surgery with a greater understanding of anatomy and principles of anesthesia and techniques to achieve excellent surgical exposure, including novel plate avulsion techniques, nail fold reflection, and methods to obtain a bloodless field.
- Get to know the different laser and non-laser devices available on the market and understand how to use lasers in your practice as an adjunct to Mohs surgery.
- Apply new practice management pearls to ones practice.

Shan R. Baker, MD is Professor and Director of the Center for Facial Cosmetic Surgery at the University of Michigan Medical Center where he has been on faculty since 1977.

Dr. Baker is a diplomate of the American Board of Facial Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery, American Board of Cosmetic Surgery, and the American Board of Otolaryngology-Head and Neck Surgery. He is the past president of the American Academy of Facial Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery and is currently the president of the American Board of Facial Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery.

Dr. Baker is an internationally renowned lecturer and his distinguished academic career includes over 140 publications, 70 book chapters, and 6 books on facial plastic surgery and reconstruction. His textbooks "Local Flaps in Facial Reconstruction" and "Principles of Aesthetic Nasal Reconstruction" have been essential references for all reconstructive surgeons.

He will share his unique experiences in combining aesthetic rhinoplasty and reconstruction in his lecture "Applying Rhinoplasty Principles to Nasal Reconstruction".

Clay J. Cockerell, MD

Clay J. Cockerell, MD is Professor Dermatology and Pathology and Director of Dermatopathology at UT Southwestern Medical School. He is the Medical Director of Cockerell and Associates Dermatopathology as well as a diplomate of the American Academy of Dermatology and American Board of Dermatopathology.

Dr. Cockerell is internationally recognized for his contributions to both dermatology and dermatopathology. He is the past president of the American Academy of Dermatology. For many years, Dr. Cockerell has overseen an educational program designed to train the next generation of dermatopathologists. He has served as Associate Editor of the Journal of the American Academy of Dermatology and is on the editorial boards of a number of medical journals including the American Journal of Dermatopathology.

He will share his experiences working with Mohs surgeons in presenting "Challenging Cases from Dallas".

Scientific Program – Thursday, April 23

7:00 am – 5:00 pm

Slide Library and Diagnostic Quality Control Self-Examination

7:15 – 8:45 am

Concurrent Morning Mini-sessions

103.1 Nasal Reconstruction for Medium Sized Defects

At the conclusion of this session, participants should be able to:

- 1) Have a better understanding of unique transposition flaps that have been found to be useful for common Mohs defects of the nasal sidewall, dorsal nose, and nose tip,
- 2) Understand how to best provide symmetry, how to maintain an open airway, and how to avoid trapdooring and saddle nose problems,
- 3) Understand the nuanced differences between a good and a great nasal reconstruction.

Richard G. Bennett, MD; Manish J. Gharia, MD

103.2 Melanoma Update

At the conclusion of this session, participants should be able to better understand the current concepts of clinical management of melanoma with respect to:

- 1) Initial workup tests,
- 2) Follow-up,
- 3) Sentinel lymph node biopsy, including controversial aspects, comprehensive assessment of the extensive evidence-based data, and its current role and applications,
- 4) Future directions.

Christopher K. Bichakjian, MD; Timothy M. Johnson, MD

103.3 An Approach to Periorbital Reconstruction

At the conclusion of this session, participants should be able to:

- 1) Understand the anatomy of the eyelids and periorbital region as it applies to reconstruction,
- 2) Develop a logical approach to repair of the periorbital defects, including the need for oculoplastic consultation,
- 3) Anticipate and address complications such as ectropion following eyelid reconstruction.

John G. Albertini, MD; Ken K. Lee, MD

103.4 Incorporating Cosmetic Surgery into a Mohs Practice

At the conclusion of this session, participants should be able to:

- 1) Market cosmetic surgery to your Mohs patients with internal marketing,
- 2) Understand the most common cosmetic procedures performed by Mohs surgeons and get advice on how to become proficient in these cosmetic procedures,
- 3) Understand the necessary changes required to transform a Mohs micrographic surgery practice to attract cosmetic surgery patients.

Greg S. Morganroth, MD; Ronald L. Moy, MD

103.5 Immunostaining

At the conclusion of this session, participants should be able to:

- 1) Have a practical understanding of the science behind immunostaining in order to incorporate immunostaining and/or troubleshoot common challenges in the Mohs lab,
- 2) Recognize and manage common diagnostic challenges in the interpretation of frozen section immunostains for melanoma,
- 3) Have a comprehensive understanding of the literature to compare the advantages and disadvantages of Mohs surgery versus other surgical approaches to melanoma.

Christopher J. Miller, MD; Gregory M. Bricca, MD

9:00 – 9:30 am

Opening Session

At the conclusion of this session, participants should be able to recite trends in Mohs surgery and cutaneous oncology as well as socioeconomic issues affecting Mohs surgery.

Duane C. Whitaker, MD, FACMS; David M. Pariser, MD, FAAD

9:30 – 10:30 am

Tromovitch Award Abstracts

At the conclusion of this session, participants should:

- 1) Become updated on recent advances in cutaneous oncology and pathology,
- 2) Become aware of the current state of the practice of Mohs surgery,
- 3) Learn about young investigators research and scholarly activities.

Moderators: Murad Alam, MD; Jeremy S. Bordeaux, MD, MPH

9:34 – 9:42 am

Surgical Margins for Excision of Melanoma in Situ

Joy Kunishige, MD; John A. Zitelli, MD; David G. Brodland, MD

9:42 – 9:50 am

Office Surgery Incidents: What Nine Years of Florida Data Show Us

Maya Thosani, MD; Brett M. Coldiron, MD

9:50 – 9:58 am

The Public's Perception of Dermatologists as Surgeons

Vinh Q. Chung, MD; Herbert Alexander, MD; Michelle Pavlis, BS; Melissa Alexander, PhD; Suephy Chen, MD, MS; Carl V. Washington, Jr., MD

9:58 – 10:06 am

Safety and Efficacy of Oral Midazolam for Perioperative Anxiolysis of Patients Undergoing Mohs Surgery

Larisa Ravitskiy, MD; Randall K. Roenigk, MD; Pamela K. Phillips, MD; Amy Weaver; Jill Killian; Clark C. Otley, MD

Scientific Program – Thursday, April 23

10:06 – 10:14 am

Mohs Surgery for Periocular Skin Cancers: A Retrospective Series of 553 Cases

Jens Thiele, MD; Gary D. Monheit, MD; Christopher B. Harmon, MD

10:14 – 10:22 am

Mohs Surgery is Effective for High-Risk Squamous Cell Carcinoma

Melissa Pugliano-Mauro, MD; Glenn D. Goldman, MD

10:22 – 10:30 am

Sebaceous Carcinoma of the Eyelids Treated with Mohs Micrographic Surgery

Humza Ilyas, MD; Nancy Kim, MD, PhD; Regina M. Yavel, MD; Mark Lucarelli, MD; John Rose, MD; Stephen N. Snow, MD

10:30 – 10:45 am

Break

10:45 – 11:45 am

How Would You Reconstruct It? (Interactive Polling)

At the conclusion of this session, participants should be able to:

- 1) Consider several reconstructive options for any surgical defect,
- 2) Understand the pros and cons of alternative reconstructive techniques.

Moderators: Anna A. Bar, MD; Glenn D. Goldman, MD
Panelists: Sumaira Z. Aasi, MD; David G. Brodland, MD; Joel W. Cook, MD; Todd E. Holmes, MD

11:45 am – 1:00 pm

Lunch (provided)

12:00 – 6:30 pm

Exhibit Hall Open

1:00 – 2:00 pm

Revision Surgery

At the conclusion of this session, participants should be able to:

- 1) Rethink concepts of undermining, eversion, and suturing in surgical scar,
- 2) Appreciate revision options for the lip and nasal ala,
- 3) Understand the importance of the nasal valve in reconstructive surgery.

Moderator: Tri H. Nguyen, MD

Optimal Scar: Paradigm Shifts

Tri H. Nguyen, MD

Revision of Lip Repairs

Richard G. Bennett, MD

Revision of the Nasal Ala and Valve

Andrew J. Kaufman, MD, FACP

2:00 – 3:00 pm

Controversies in Mohs Surgery (Interactive Polling)

At the conclusion of this session, participants should be able to:

- 1) Select appropriate therapy for complex patients with difficult-to-manage tumors,
- 2) Appreciate the potential role of cetuximab in the management of recurrent or metastatic squamous cell carcinoma,
- 3) Understand the role of adjuvant radiation therapy in the treatment of basal cell carcinoma,
- 4) Understand the strengths and limitations in the use of frozen sections in the surgical management of sebaceous carcinoma.

Moderators: Desiree Ratner, MD; Summer Youker, MD

Controversy #1: Should this transplant patient, with metastatic SCC, receive cetuximab?

Presenter: Hillary Johnson, MD

Pro: Monica Halem, MD

Con: Thomas Stasko, MD

Controversy #2: Should this patient, with an incompletely excised large perineural BCC, receive postoperative radiation therapy?

Presenter: Heather D. Rogers, MD

Pro: Timothy S. Wang, MD

Con: Carl V. Washington, Jr., MD

Controversy #3: Should Mohs surgery with frozen sections be performed on this patient with sebaceous carcinoma of the eyelid?

Presenter: Susan Butler, MD

Pro: John A. Zitelli, MD

Con: Roberta D. Sengelmann, MD

3:00 – 3:30 pm

Break; visit the Exhibit Hall and Posters

3:30 – 4:30 pm

Research Abstract Session

At the conclusion of this session, participants should be able to understand and identify new research developments in Mohs surgery and oncology.

Moderators: Marcy Neuburg, MD; Isaac M. Neuhaus, MD

3:33 – 3:41 pm

Innovative 19 Minute Rapid Cytokeratin Immunostaining of Non-melanoma Skin Cancer in Mohs Micrographic Surgery

Basil S. Cherpelis, MD; Logan Turner, MD; Sharron Ladd, BS; L. Frank Glass, MD; Neil Fenske, MD

3:41 – 3:49 pm

Topical Imiquimod Versus Imiquimod and Tazarotene for Lentigo Maligna Followed by Staged Excision

Glen M. Bowen, MD; Mark Hyde, MMS, PA-C

Scientific Program – Thursday, April 23

3:49 – 3:57 pm

Complications of Cutaneous Surgery in Patients Who Are Taking Clopidogrel

Robert H. Cook-Norris, MD; Jason D. Michaels, MD; Pamela K. Phillips, MD; M. Amanda Jacobs, MD; Randall K. Roenigk, MD; Clark C. Otley, MD

3:57 – 4:05 pm

Treatment of Rare and Uncommon Non-melanoma Tumors by Mohs Surgery: A Meta-Analysis of 1232 Cases

Murad Alam, MD; Christopher Wickman, M4; Daniel Danahey, MD; Simon S. Yoo, MD; Natalie Kim, BS Clinical; Alfred Rademaker, PhD

4:05 – 4:13 pm

Sentinel Lymph Node Biopsy in Thin Malignant Melanoma

Jerry D. Brewer, MD; David Wetter; Amer Kalaaji; Michaela McGree; Amy Weaver

4:30 – 5:30 pm

Reconstructive Challenges: Full Thickness Defect

At the conclusion of this session, participants should be able to:

- 1) Understand the challenge of full thickness defects in regards to potential functional and aesthetic problems,
- 2) Formulate an appropriate reconstructive plan to ensure restoration of form and function,
- 3) Learn the operative techniques likely to yield durable and reproducible repair.

Moderator: Joel W. Cook, MD

Full Thickness Eyelid Repairs

J. Ramsey Mellette, Jr., MD

Full Thickness Nasal Repairs

Jonathan L. Cook, MD

Full Thickness Lip Repairs

Tri H. Nguyen, MD

5:30 – 7:00 pm

Welcome Reception in Exhibit Hall

Scientific Program – Friday, April 24

7:00 am - 5:00 pm

Slide Library and Diagnostic Quality Control Self-Examination

7:15 – 8:45 am

Concurrent Morning Mini-sessions

203.1 Setting Up a Mohs Histopathology Laboratory

At the conclusion of this session, participants should be able to:

- 1) Understand the regulatory requirements of establishing a Mohs laboratory; including space requirements, equipment needs, and maintenance,
- 2) Utilize the quality control resources and proficiency testing available.

Stephen N. Snow, MD; Frederick S. Fish, III, MD

203.2 Role of Imaging in Non-melanoma Skin Cancer

At the conclusion of this session, participants should be able to:

- 1) Utilize radiologic imaging techniques in the management of difficult cases of non-melanoma skin cancer,
- 2) Understand the principles of available imaging modalities as well as the power and limitations of each modality,
- 3) Understand indications for pre and postoperative imaging with regard to non-melanoma skin cancer,
- 4) Understand how to choose the best imaging study for a specific clinical indication.

Deborah MacFarlane, MD; Tatyana R. Humphreys, MD

203.3 Perioral Reconstruction

At the conclusion of this session, participants should be able to:

- 1) Approach perioral reconstruction in a systematic fashion. This will be accomplished by breaking down the area into four reconstructive subunits: central lip including Cupid's bow and philtral defects, medial lip adjacent to the lateral aspect of the philtrum, lateral lip, and apical lip,
- 2) Understand techniques to repair "wet," "dry," and combination defects,
- 3) Understand standard reconstructive approaches for the lower lip and learn several "out of the box" options.

J. Ramsey Mellette, Jr., MD; Roberta D. Sengemann, MD

203.4 CPC: Challenging Cutaneous Tumors

At the conclusion of this session, participants should be able to:

- 1) Identify key diagnostic and management issues regarding the care of patients with complex cutaneous malignancies,
- 2) Establish a framework for a comprehensive and appropriate work-up for complex or uncommon cutaneous malignancies,
- 3) Identify when Mohs micrographic surgery alone may be insufficient for adequate patient management, and multidisciplinary care may be of benefit.

Christopher J. Arpey, MD; Marc D. Brown, MD; Leslie J. Christensen, MD

203.5 Regional Reconstruction

At the conclusion of this session, participants should be able to:

- 1) Have a better understanding of the dynamics in place for a variety of local flaps and why certain flaps are used more often,
- 2) Have a better idea of why small adjustments to certain flaps can have a major impact on the final aesthetic outcome,
- 3) Have a more clear understanding of which flaps work best for certain defects, and have an algorithm to go through for many specific regions of the face.

Andrew J. Kaufman, MD, FACP; Thomas E. Rohrer, MD

203.6 Managing Lower Extremity Cancers and Defects

At the conclusion of this session, participants should be able to:

- 1) Understand different treatment modalities for patients with multiple squamous cell carcinomas of the lower extremities,
- 2) Evaluate approaches to Mohs surgery in patients with lymphedema, lipodermatosclerosis, and scleroderma,
- 3) Discuss treatment options with achilles tendon exposure.

Peter K. Lee, MD; Jeffrey E. Petersen, MD

9:00 – 10:00 am

Coding Conundrums (Interactive Polling)

At the conclusion of this session, participants should be able to:

- 1) Be familiar with recent changes regarding coding for Mohs micrographic surgery,
- 2) Code correctly for Mohs excisions and common types of reconstruction,
- 3) Be aware of various "gray areas" in coding with regard to Mohs and reconstruction.

Moderator: Mark J. Zalla, MD

Panelists: Brett M. Coldiron, MD; Glenn D. Goldman, MD; John A. Zitelli, MD

10:00 – 11:00 am

Applying Rhinoplasty Principles to Nasal Reconstruction

At the conclusion of this session, participants should be able to:

- 1) Understand alternatives for reconstruction of nasal lining defects,
- 2) Recognize the importance of structural support and options for providing nasal support during reconstruction of deep nasal defects,
- 3) Understand the variety of nasal cutaneous flaps available for repair of small nasal cutaneous defects and the appropriate indications for each flap.

Moderator: Neil A. Swanson, MD

Panelist: Shan R. Baker, MD

Scientific Program – Friday, April 24

11:00 – 11:15 am

Break

11:15 am – 12:15 pm

Slide Quality and Conundrums Polling

At the conclusion of this session, participants should be able to:

- 1) Troubleshoot common technical problems to obtain quality histopathology slides,
- 2) Differentiate false positives/false negatives when reading Mohs histopathology,
- 3) Appreciate and discuss complex histopathology and the conundrums in frozen sections.

Moderator: Sumaira Z. Aasi, MD

Panelists: Todd E. Holmes, MD; Nanette Liégeois, MD, PhD; Carl G. Schanbacher, MD

12:00 – 6:00 pm

Exhibit Hall Open

12:15 – 1:30 pm

ACMS Annual Business Meeting and Lunch

Non-members and guests lunch on own; visit the Exhibit Hall

Duane C. Whitaker, MD

1:30 – 2:30 pm

The Undesirable Result in Reconstructive Surgery

At the conclusion of this session, participants should be able to thoughtfully analyze less desirable results in facial reconstructive surgery in order to determine sources of potential error in operative design or surgical technique.

Moderator: Jonathan L. Cook MD

Panelists: Shan R. Baker, MD; Leonard M. Dzubow, MD; Tatyana R. Humphreys, MD; Steven M. Rotter, MD

2:30 – 3:00 pm

Break; visit the Exhibit Hall

3:00 – 4:00 pm

Clinical Pearls Abstract Session

---

This new session highlights practical pearls submitted by our members.

Moderators: Suzanne Olbricht, MD; Allison T. Vidimos, MD

3:03 – 3:11 pm

Nasal Valve Repair Using Double Lateral Suture

Suspension

Thomas G. Lewis, MD; Heidi B. Donnelly, MD

3:11 – 3:19 pm

The Hughes Tarsoconjunctival Flap: A Useful Flap for Repair of Full-Thickness Lower Eyelid Defects

Following Mohs Surgery

Kevin J. Mott, MD

3:19 – 3:27 pm

Revisionary Technique for Alar Rim Notching: The Stair-Step Flap

Brian Curtis Leach, MD; Joel W. Cook, MD

3:19 – 3:27 pm

Reconstruction Pearl: A Proximally-based Alar Hinge Flap for a Nasal Soft Triangle Defect

Michael W. Chen, MD; Richard G. Bennett, MD

3:27 – 3:35 pm

Standardized Photography in Facial Reconstructive Surgery: Clinical Pearls to Simplify a Complicated Task

Juan-Carlos Martinez, MD

3:35 – 3:43 pm

Using Rotation Flaps to Repair Large Scalp Defects without the Aid of Tissue Expanders

Ravi S. Krishnan, MD

4:00 – 5:00 pm

Afternoon at the Movies

At the conclusion of this session, participants should be able to understand how leading experts design and execute:

- 1) A bilobe flap and helical rim rotation flap,
- 2) An island pedicle flap and forehead flap,
- 3) A cheek interpolation flap and manipulate cartilage during certain reconstructive procedures.

Moderators: Thomas E. Rohrer, MD; Roberta D. Sengelmann, MD

Variations on the Bilobe Flap

Heidi B. Donnelly, MD

Helical Rim Rotation Flap

R. Stan Taylor, III, MD

Island Pedicle Flap

David G. Brodland, MD

Forehead Flap

Steven M. Rotter, MD

Cheek Interpolation Flap

Scientific Program – Saturday, April 25

7:00 am – 2:00 pm

Slide Library and Diagnostic Quality Control Self-Examination

7:15 – 8:45 am

Concurrent Morning Mini-sessions

304.1 Advanced Reconstruction: From Plastics to Mohs

At the conclusion of this session, participants should be able to:

- 1) Recognize reconstructive biases derived from formal training in plastic surgery,
- 2) Understand how plastic surgeons' approach to reconstruction has evolved over the course of a Mohs practice,
- 3) Incorporate new techniques into the reconstruction of Mohs defects,
- 4) Modify Mohs resection techniques in special reconstructive situations.

Stephen D. Antrobus, MD; Bryce J. Cowan, MD

304.2 Beyond the Basics: Advanced Nail Surgery

At the conclusion of this session, participants should be able to:

- 1) Reliably achieve appropriate wide surgical exposure of the nail apparatus, through novel avulsion techniques in a bloodless field,
- 2) Perform Mohs surgery for nail tumors, including a technique utilizing nail anatomic and histologic subunits,
- 3) Perform a wide range of nail surgeries for common indications such as longitudinal melanonychia and longitudinal erythronychia,
- 4) Design and perform a variety of nail flaps.

Siobhan C. Collins, MD; Nathaniel J. Jellinek, MD

304.3 Ear Reconstruction

At the conclusion of this session, participants should be able to:

- 1) Have a better understanding of the surgical anatomy of the ear,
- 2) Have an improved ability to assess wounds of the ear with regards to whether or not reconstruction is necessary,
- 3) If reconstruction is necessary the participant will be aware of numerous options for reconstruction of each type of defect based on both the extent of the defect and the location on the ear,
- 4) Generate multiple reconstructive options for most wounds,
- 5) Have a better understanding of how to execute flaps, grafts and multistage procedures for closure.

Christie T. Ammirati, MD; David G. Brodland, MD

304.4 Advanced Blepharoplasty

At the conclusion of this session, participants should be able to:

- 1) Understand eyelid aesthetics and what makes a "beautiful" eye,
- 2) Manage upper eyelid lateral hooding and lower eyelid skin laxity,
- 3) Avoid ectropion with lower eyelid blepharoplasty,
- 4) Combine techniques to achieve the beautiful eye (laser resurfacing, canthopexy, browpexy, brow lift).

Hayes B. Gladstone, MD; Edgar F. Fincher, MD

304.5 Lasers for the Mohs Surgeon

At the conclusion of this session, participants should be able to:

- 1) Understand the types of lasers available in practice today,
- 2) Classify basic indications for each type of laser, including scars, vascular lesions, acne, pigmented lesions, tattoos, hair removal, hypopigmentation/vitiligo/psoriasis,
- 3) Implement appropriate pre-, intra-, and post-laser treatment plans.

George J. Hruza, MD; Andrea Willey, MD; Keyvan Nouri, MD

8:30 am – 2:00 pm

Exhibit Hall Open

9:00 – 10:30 am

Concurrent Scientific Sessions

306.1 Tumor Board (9:00 – 10:30 am)

At the conclusion of this session, participants should be able to:

- 1) Discuss the clinicopathologic correlation of high risk skin cancers,
- 2) Recognize when a patient may require preoperative radiologic imaging for high risk skin cancers,
- 3) Appreciate the various approaches to high risk skin cancer and adjuvant diagnostic and therapeutic modalities.

Moderators: Clark C. Otley, MD; Chrysalyn D. Schmults, MD; Timothy S. Wang, MD

Panelists: Shan R. Baker, MD; John A. Carucci, MD; Victor J. Marks, MD; Desiree Ratner, MD

Scientific Program – Saturday, April 25

306.2 Morning at the Movies: Cosmetic Surgery (9:00 – 10:00 am)

At the conclusion of this session, participants should be able to:

- 1) Understand the implementation of endovenous techniques and sclerotherapy in patients with venous disease,
- 2) Understand indications of new fillers and expanded use of current fillers,
- 3) Understand and utilize updated techniques for laser rejuvenation and non-surgical fat dissolution.

Moderators: Gary Lask, MD; Naomi Lawrence, MD

Update on Sclerotherapy and Endovenous Procedures Girish S. Munavalli, MD, MHS

New Fillers and New Uses for Fillers Naomi Lawrence, MD

Laser Rejuvenation Practical Pearls Gary Lask, MD

Fat Dissolution Mathew M. Avram, MD, JD

306.3 Managing Cosmetic Patients: Conversation with the Experts (10:00 – 10:30 am)

At the conclusion of this session, participants should be able to:

- 1) Evaluate the needs of the cosmetic patient,
- 2) Describe various minimally invasive cosmetic procedures,
- 3) Assess the appropriate cosmetic procedure for specific cosmetic indications.

Moderator: Hayes B. Gladstone, MD

Panelists: Ronald L. Moy, MD; Christopher B. Zachary, MD

Concurrent Morning Mini-sessions

---

402.1 Reconstruction of the Face with Cutaneous Flaps

At the conclusion of this session, participants should be able to:

- 1) Illustrate the reconstruction of various facial wounds with local flaps,
- 2) Understand the design modifications of flaps that produce more optimal surgical outcomes,
- 3) Explain the surgical techniques that promote more aesthetically suitable operative results.

Jonathan L. Cook, MD; Glenn D. Goldman, MD

402.2 Nasal Reconstruction: Classic and Unconventional

At the conclusion of this session, participants should be able to:

- 1) Understand the importance of functional and aesthetic nasal reconstruction following Mohs surgery,
- 2) Review the classical methods of nasal repair with particular emphasis on flap reconstructive surgery,
- 3) Explore unconventional methods of nasal reconstruction including, but not limited to, tunneled flaps, composite repairs, hinge flap repairs, unusual variations of conventional flaps, and other advanced reconstructive dermatologic surgical procedures,
- 4) Compare the advantages and disadvantages of conventional and unconventional repair techniques.

Joel W. Cook, MD; Tri H. Nguyen, MD

402.3 Coding for Mohs Surgeons

At the conclusion of this session, participants should be able to:

- 1) Cope with the loss of the Mohs multiple surgery exemption,
- 2) Utilize the latest coding information,
- 3) Be aware of the advantages of having their own permanent section laboratory.

Brett M. Coldiron, MD; Randall K. Roenigk, MD

9:00 – 9:50 am

Diagnostic Quality Control Exam Review

At the conclusion of this session, participants should be able to understand the importance of dermatopathology in Mohs surgery.

Moderator: Frederick S. Fish, III, MD

9:50 – 10:00 am

Break

10:00 am – 12:00 pm

Cosmetic Symposium

At the conclusion of this session, participants should be able to:

- 1) Understand new approaches to filler, photodynamic therapy, and fractional resurfacing enabling them to expand their use of these techniques,
- 2) Utilize cyanoacrylate tissue adhesive to enhance the results of their face lift and learn to select patients, in which chin implants provide an alternative to face lifts,
- 3) Use a carbon dioxide laser to rejuvenate the lower eyelids and use a chin implant to substitute for a face lift in men with weak chins.
